FROM STUDY TO SKILLS

The Department of Screen Arts and Cultures (SAC) is uniquely situated to help LSA students explore the intersection of intellectual study and creative practice in the arts. SAC offers a well-conceived integration of critical studies and creative production that examines American and world film, video art, television, and digital media, as well as the development of particular genres and the careers of individual artists. The program also provides undergraduates with practical experience in filmmaking, video, television, digital media, as well as a challenging merit-based sequence of screenwriting and TV writing courses to qualified students.

SAC concentrators develop a broad range of skills, including artistic, critical, evaluative, planning, and technical abilities and are encouraged to study abroad. A minor in Global Media is also available.

Related fields include Communication Studies, English Literature and Creative Writing, Theatre, History of Art, Art and Design, Music, Performance Technology (School of Music), Business, and Computer Science.

BUILDING YOUR SKILLS OUTSIDE THE CLASSROOM

Employers seek out individuals who can demonstrate excellent verbal and written communication skills, teamwork and interpersonal skills, initiative, and a strong work ethic. Student organizations and campus employment offer valuable opportunities to add to the skills you are developing in your classes. Most concentrations sponsor specific student groups like an undergraduate organization or an honor society. Other options include study abroad, off-campus employment or volunteering in the community. Finally, a summer internship may be the best way of all to test out a career field and develop marketable skills.
FROM SKILLS TO CAREER

The skills you gain as a Screen Arts & Cultures concentrator will prepare you to succeed in a number of occupations. While the academic program emphasizes the artistic aspects of moving image media, SAC concentrators have discovered occupational opportunities in a wide range of careers, such as business, non-profit organizations, government, education, and all media.
